Residential Aircraft Hangars

Code: 2006 Residential Code  Date: October 1, 2007
Section: R309

Question:
Would an airplane hangar attached to a single family dwelling be treated just like a garage for any other vehicle as required per R309?

Answer:
Section 412.3 in the 2006 Building Code gives specific guidance for residential aircraft hangars that are attached to single-family dwellings. Among other things, this section requires 1-hour separation.
